GlyMed Plus Institute of Skin Science™

In 1997, the GlyMed Plus Institute of Skin Science™ was established as a post-secondary, educational facility engineered to navigate the esthetician through progressive skin analysis, acne therapy, pigmentation remedies and anti-aging treatments specifically aimed to provide the skin care professional with the easiest and most effective approach to advanced professional skin care. It was the dream of Christine Heathman, CME, LMT, CEO and practicing esthetician for over 25 years, to ensure that estheticians who are performing various skin care modalities be properly trained in skin physiology, client analysis, ingredient designation, skin repair, and how to avoid contraindications that may occur.

In addition, The GlyMed Plus Institute of Skin Science™ continues to partner and meet the demands of advanced education with state of the art esthetic schools augmenting their curriculum with advanced esthetic training and providing broad-based programs with both theory and practical experience.

With the esthetic industry heading toward the medical (medispa) arena, more and more graduating students are finding themselves working within a clinical environment, unfortunately with minimal skills to perform the type of treatments demanded in this highly skilled area.

Our commitment to every school we partner with is to incorporate an advanced program for students wishing to direct their careers toward the medical field in order to ensure a level of clinical education that prepares this new generation of estheticians for advanced peeling, ultrasound, skin of color, photodermatology analysis, etc. Graduating students need the level of comprehensive training that goes beyond just learning how to apply chemical components or utilizing machines. They need education on performing case studies, recommending proper homecare to prevent contraindications, evaluating the client to determine the best course of action, seeing the client through the procedures and ultimately entering their career with a professional portfolio that will get them into whatever environment they choose.

The GlyMed Plus® Master Student Course is the comprehensive program needed to incorporate this critical information into the educational environment, with the support of the most advanced skin program available.

Featured in this unique professional program are the following benefits:

TO THE STUDENT

A Student Manual Upon Registration

Students will receive the GlyMed Plus® Purely Professional Skin Care Manual-Student Edition which includes:

- Steps for Client Consultation
- Skin Conditions
- Facial Protocols
- Choosing a Chemical Peel
- Contraindications of Chemical Peels
- Peeling Protocols

A “Case Study” Kit

Included with the manual, each student will receive three case study kits. This provides them with the tools they need to perform case studies on pigmentation, acne, and photo aged skin. These studies can be done on the student, family member, or patrons of the school. By the time the student completes their education, they will have compiled a portfolio of their accomplishments.

GlyMed Plus Institute of Skin Science™

Students may use these kits in their own case study programs. These kits can be purchased by the schools and sold to the students directly or be included as a part of the tuition.
